Comment:

The volume of typical fleet vehicles (2-4 years) that were sold in October returned to levels that we have become used to throughout 2015, falling by 24% from the highs of September. Although these volumes have reduced substantially, vehicles in all other age groups actually increased still further in October with the net effect being an overall reduction in volumes of only 2.3%.

Comment:

Whilst overall average mileage has increased by 4.2% to 81,155 miles, average mileage of vehicles up to and including 4 years old reduced again in October. The average mileage of typical fleet stock (2-4 years) has reduced by almost 7,000 miles compared to the same month last year, giving further reassurance that fleet change cycles are returning to pre-recessionary levels.

Comment:

The average hammer price achieved throughout October increased for the 6th consecutive month to £4910 which represents an increase of 1.4% over last month, however when compared to last year it sits 5.2% down.

Market Overview

As expected, sales volume reduced slightly in October, and whilst first time conversion rates also retracted it was only by a relatively small amount to 77.4% which represents the 3rd best month this year. At 13.3 the average number of days on site in October is the lowest seen all year indicating that the influx of freshly de-fleeted units seen in October were received favourably by the trade. There does however, continue to be a growing volume of units with high mileages and/or in poor condition remaining unsold at auction centres. Should there continue to be decent volumes of freshly de-fleeted units arriving in the coming weeks vendors may find it an even greater challenge to dispose of problem units as we enter what is a notoriously a slow period for volume sales.

Overall Commercial vehicle registrations in October were down by 2.9% compared with last year, despite van registrations being up by 6.2% in the period. Whilst this has seemingly bucked the trend of this year's growth it is against a backdrop of the Euro VI legislation changes last year in the truck market that led to a significant spike in registrations in October 2014. There continues to be a great deal of buoyancy in the new market, and year-to-date registration volumes currently stand 16.7% ahead of last year, making the prospect of a record year quite likely.
